TREES GALORE

Blue Chip Plants 10 acres of trees to celebrate new 'green data' centre

A Bedfordshire company has put green technology at the heart of its business to create one of Europe's most energy efficient data centre's. The business has joined forces with the counties foremost environmental regeneration project.

Blue Chip the IT service specialist's launches a unique partnership with the Marston Vale Trust, together they have set out a shared vision to plant up to 3/4 million trees within new community woodlands across the Forest of Marston Vale

This is the latest in a series of green enterprises for Blue Chip that began in 2009 with the award of a £500,000 grant from the Carbon Trust to invest in their new data centre. The result is a 25,000 sq ft facility on a 5 acre site and is one of the most energy efficient data centre's in Europe.

"Achieving massive energy savings through green technology has allowed us to dramatically reduce our carbon footprint and this partnership means we can now go even further," said Brian Meredith, Managing Director of Blue Chip.

Blue Chip has calculated that planting 2000 mature trees will compensate for the carbon generated from the operation of each server rack at its data centre. For the next 10 years Blue Chip will ensure that more trees take root each time a new rack is commissioned.

Box Clever, the largest TV rental company in the UK recently became a hosted client in the data centre. To celebrate, the Bedford-based company joined Blue Chip and the Forest of Marston Vale to launch the new partnership and announce plans to plant the first 2000 trees in Shocott Spring, which will cover 10 acres in the Marston Vale Trust's new woodland between Shortstown and Cotton End.

"Our business requires state of the art data handling and a first rate service but we are also concerned about the impact of business on the environment. Blue Chip's reputation and leading edge technology were immediately attractive and the fact that it is Bedford based and is supporting the creation of the Forest of Marston Vale was an extra bonus!"

"We are delighted to take this opportunity to support the creation of the Forest of Marston Vale"

Managing your risk factor

We spoke to Brian Meredith, Managing Director of Blue Chip, about the company he founded in 1987. After many years of steady organic growth the company relocated into a new custom-built data centre in Bedford in 2005, and has since grown 25% year on year. The construction and subsequent launch of their new data centre will allow this expansion to continue.

Can you tell us more about the Blue Chip service?

"We basically take the pain away from large organisations that rely on business critical IT systems. Having Blue Chip on board gives an organisation total confidence that their computer systems will run efficiently, that expert IT support is always at hand."

What's the secret of your company's success?

"Outstanding customer service. We believe in employing and training the best people and offering all our clients a personal service. Every client is assigned its own team of dedicated technicians on call 24/7."

What made you want to 'go green'?

"I am very aware that the carbon footprint produced by our industry is significant. The grant from the Carbon Trust gave us the means to take action and I'm delighted that we have. It's generated a surge of enthusiasm throughout the company to do more to tackle climate change and give something back to our environment."

What are the benefits to your customers?

"By employing the lowest possible energy use in our data centre we are putting both Blue Chip and our customers in the best possible position for the future. Now our clients can reduce energy usage and carbon emissions in-line with Government legislation whilst being proud that their investment will help generate acres of new woodland across the county."

Why did you approach the Forest of Marston Vale?

"The Marston Vale Trust understands better than anyone how industry can shape our landscape. Their mission to regenerate a landscape scarred by centuries of brick making and clay extraction for the benefit of the environment, local people and wildlife really impressed me I am delighted that my company has become involved."

Data centre's on this scale house huge amounts of IT equipment and consequently a lot of heat is produced and removing that heat is essential to the effective running of the systems –conventional methods can be environmentally harmful and very expensive.

To address this Blue Chip decided to invest and incorporate green technologies into its new building. Having secured the Carbon Trust grant to help fund the project they called in specialist organisations to support the assignment.

How does "evaporative cooling" technology work?

Blue Chip's clients require a secure and consistent supply of air at the correct temperature for their servers to work at their most efficient and cost effective.

The unique evaporative cooling system (pictured above) is designed to create totally compliant conditions at less than a tenth of the cost of the best conventional refrigeration systems. Blue Chip customers reap the benefits financially and environmentally.

Chemical suicide fear sparks alert

BY CHRIS GILL
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAJOR alert was issued in Luton yesterday - after fears of a chemical suicide.

Emergency services were called to a flat in Acworth Crescent just before 10am after two police officers investigating a burglary reported strong fumes.

A 200 metre cordon was thrown around the area, some people were evacuated while others were told not to leave their homes.

After an initial assessment

Bedfordshire and Luton Fire and Rescue Service called hazardous materials experts from within the brigade to the scene.

Soon afterwards chemical decontamination equipment held by BLFRS arrived along with experts from the national decontamination unit. It is believed the firefighters who entered the property expected to find a body but the flat was empty. Bedfordshire Police say they would like to speak to the occupier, who is understood

There goes the bride - to prison

A BRIDE and groom were arrested as they were about to tie the knot at a register office this week - on suspicion of sham marriage offences.

A Pakistani national and a woman of no fixed address, had been due to marry at Luton Register Office, in George Street West, on Tuesday afternoon.

But they were stopped by UK Border Agency Immigration Crime Team officers who also arrested three other members of the wedding party inside the register office, and a further three outside.

On Thursday the not-so-happy couple appeared at Luton Magistrates' Court where they were remanded in custody until their next hearing - at Luton Crown Court - in January.

Both were charged with conspiring to facilitate illegal leave to remain in the UK of a non-EU national.

Further inquiries are being made by the Immigration Crime Team, whose spokesman, Ian Williams, said: "We will not tolerate immigration abuse and our immigration crime teams are cracking down on sham marriages all over the country. If we uncover marriages that are not genuine, we will challenge them and prosecute where appropriate.

"Our main aim is to identify and destroy the criminal businesses of the organisers who profit from immigration crime and fuel the demand for sham marriages.

"We do not expect vicars or registrars to be experts in immigration law or spotting forged documents - that's our job. But if they have any suspicions about whether a relationship is genuine, we would urge them to get in touch with us."

A marriage certificate alone does not give foreign nationals the right to live and work in the UK. Their relationship also has to be genuine.

If at any stage the UK Border Agency proves that a couple has formed a relationship to exploit the immigration system, they can face prosecution or deportation. Anyone with possible information about immigration crime should contact Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

to be a woman. Fire Group Commander Chris Adams said they took the view that there had been a number of chemical suicides where people get ideas from the net where they spread chemicals and turn the tap on to spread the fumes.

He said this situation bore all the hallmarks of that.

Luton on Sunday understands that a number of chemicals had been sprayed around the premises.

It is also believed that there had been a small fire.

Sources indicated the chemicals were of a household nature and were contained.

After six hours the operation, which involved around 20 police officers, 10 fire vehicles and support from the east of England ambulance service, was wound down.

There were no injuries.

Beds situation is branded 'pathetic'

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@Lutononsunday.co.uk

THE elderly and vulnerable are forced to make daily round trips of up to 60 miles to care for loved ones recovering from serious illnesses.

Some hospital patients who live in south Bedfordshire are being discharged to recuperate at Biggleswade Community Hospital, where there are 29 beds.

Elsewhere in the Central Bedfordshire area there are just six beds in Leighton Buzzard, and six in Silsoe.

It means those south Bedfordshire residents wanting to be at their relatives' bedside in Biggleswade struggle to get to and from the hospital up to 30 miles away.

The problem was raised last month by respondents to a survey conducted by health and social care watchdog Bedfordshire Link (Local Involvement Network).

In it patients branded the number of community beds for those discharged from hospital 'pathetic' and 'unacceptable'.

Beds Link vice chairman Ray Gunning said: "Biggleswade has the majority of community beds in the county, but families are unhappy with that situation – it's 30 miles away for some.

"Stroke victims are usually elderly, which means their partner is elderly.

"Earlier this year there was a situation in which an elderly couple had to get their local church to put a taxi service on for the wife to get from their Dunstable home to Biggleswade for four weeks so she could care for her husband after a stroke."

In Bedfordshire Link's October newsletter it said that, in the survey, comments were made saying the current number of beds is 'a microscopic percentage of the Central Beds population and is unacceptable'.

It added: 'To stop bed-blocking, more beds are required and the staff to mind them. It is pathetic what the local population has to put up with.'

As with all services dealt with in this reply, in particular, of the elderly; we have spent a life time paying for services that are not adequate when required. We certainly need more community beds as a priority.'

Mr Gunning, 63, who suffered a stroke 12 years ago, said: "It's fair to say what's in the newsletter came from comments from respondents to the survey."

On Friday afternoon Bedfordshire Link met with NHS Bedfordshire to discuss the outcome of the survey.

Mr Gunning added: "We have a good relationship with NHS Bedfordshire and we very much welcome the meeting with them."

An NHS Bedfordshire spokesman said: "We are aware of issues regarding the provision of local community beds within south Bedfordshire and have been working with the L&D to assess the future requirements for specialist and rehabilitation beds given the needs of an ageing population."

"We are now developing plans in response to these requirements."

"However, the best place for patients to recover and gain independence after leaving hospital is in their own home with healthcare support from our community health services if required."

"Our focus is to support as many patients as we can to go straight home after hospital discharge and, for the small number of patients requiring more intensive rehabilitation, we do our best to find a community bed close to their home."

Murder charge teenager held

A SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD who was charged with murder was remanded into custody at Luton Magistrates' Court on Thursday.

The teenager from Luton was charged with the murder of Michael Simwanza (pictured) which happened at the Kingsway Recreation Ground on October 30. He is expected to reappear before court tomorrow.

Michael Simwanza, also 17, of the Farley Hill area of Luton, was found with stab wounds and died at Luton & Dunstable Hospital soon after.

A second man, a 34-year-old from Luton, has also been arrested by officers on suspicion of assisting an offender and being concerned in the murder.

He has been questioned by detectives and has now been released on police bail pending further investigation.

Council's cost-cutting measures could mean lights go out

NO street lighting between midnight and 6am and the closure of a disabled workshop are some of the cost-cutting measures proposed by Central Bedfordshire Council.

On Tuesday the authority's executive agreed a budget strategy that proposes a wide range of efficiency and service reduction measures.

Other proposed reductions include:

- Halting funding to the music service so that schools and parents meet costs
- Discontinuing mobile library services, but retaining the Library Link service for housebound users and those in sheltered accommodation.

LuDun, on Liscombe Road, Dunstable, which currently employs 24 staff with a range of disabilities and provides a number of services including picture framing, is also set for the chop. The service is managed by Central Bedfordshire on behalf of a group of trustees and it is estimated a total saving of £300,000 will be made in 2011/12 if the operation is closed from April next year.

Employees will be able to put their views forward which will be taken into account when the executive make their final decision on February 8.

Warren Kenny, GMB regional officer, said: "GMB will support the staff and their families who will challenge the council decision to close this sheltered workshop in Dunstable."

Cllr Peter Hollick, chairman of the trustees, said: "We remain absolutely committed to supporting local disabled people through training and supporting them into employment. We have committed to make all trust funds available to pursue this goal and are currently exploring other options including a new community-based social enterprise based in a town centre location."

Cllr Tricia Turner, leader of Central Bedfordshire Council, said: "We have prepared ourselves to face the budget reductions that were inevitable as the whole of the public sector contributes to the plan to cut our national debt."

"The decisions ahead won't be easy, but we have a strong track record in cutting costs, having saved £10 million from our budget in the first year of our existence and a further £12 million this year."

Sarfraz's 'beautiful' memoir earns praise from The Boss

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

ROCK legend Bruce Springsteen read a book about a journalist who grew up in Luton's Bury Park community - and thought it was really beautiful.

The Boss - who had major hits with albums Born to Run and Born in the USA - praised Sarfraz Manzoor for his memoir, entitled Greetings from Bury Park, when they met in London recently.

Manzoor, a fanatic of Springsteen's music, which he says 'changed my life', encountered his idol at a British Film Institute reception ahead of a screening of the American star's new documentary, Called The Promise.

Having walked in to a flurry of flashbulbs going off, Springsteen immediately noticed broadcaster Manzoor, 39, and made a beeline for him, asking: 'How you been? I got to tell you I really loved your book.'

Manzoor, a self-confessed obsessive of

the 61-year-old's music, replied: 'You've read my book?' to which Springsteen answered: 'Yes I have, and it's a lovely thing, really beautiful.'

When Manzoor asked him how he even knew the book existed, he was told: 'People send me copies.'

Manzoor then gave a copy of Greetings from Bury Park - released in the summer of 2007 - to Springsteen's manager, Jon Landau, who was photographed clutching it on his way into Claridge's Hotel later that night.

Manzoor told Luton on Sunday: 'I told him about the book and he said it sounded great so I handed him a copy.'

'I know Bruce has read the book but Landau hasn't and didn't know the book at all.'

'We talked about my hopes to adapt the book into a film. He seemed keen and I'm really hoping he will back it and maybe even do a cameo.'

Gurinder Chadha (director of Bend It Like Beckham) is very keen on the book and wants to direct it, and I love the idea of Luton being almost a character in the film.'

'It has been incredibly important in the formation of who I am and it would be amazing if cinema and book audiences around the world got to know Luton and Bury Park.'

Minister denies reopening of Organisation Workshop project

CLAIMS by Marsh Farm Outreach that the Minister Andrew Stunell has 're-opened' the door for them to deliver the Organisation Workshop project has been denied by the Government office.

On his Facebook page, Glenn Jenkins of Marsh Farm Outreach has posted: 'Andrew Stunell has re-opened the door to the OW... final decision at a special meeting of Marsh Farm Trust board next week.'

But on Friday a spokesman for the Department for Communities and Local Government said this was not the case.

He said: 'The Government has to make sure public money is spent safely and wisely.'

'Communities Minister Andrew Stunell has explained that it is not appropriate for public funds for the workshop project to be managed by Marsh Farm Outreach.'

'He has also said that Marsh Farm NDC is responsible for deciding how to spend the funds granted to them, including the money that was earmarked for the project.'

A spokesman for Marsh Farm Community Development Trust said: 'As requested by DCLG Minister Andrew Stunell MP, MFCDT is exploring with officials any potential for alternative delivery models that could still deliver the project's outcomes but, as set out in MFCDT's statement dated October 26,

2010, MFCDT Programme Director Lysle Osborne is still of the view that there is not sufficient time before the end of the current NDC programme to commission a new delivery body and redesign the programme.'

'There is no special meeting of the MFCDT Board planned for next week.'

Spokesman for MFO, Glenn Jenkins, told this newspaper that he would not reply to questions asked until LSN group editor Steve Lowe responded to his letter, which among other statements concerning this matter, requested a radio debate.

Mr Lowe did write back on Friday afternoon, offering Mr Jenkins space in Luton on Sunday for such a debate.

Landlord's fury after fireworks damage car

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

A PUB landlord has hit out after trouble at a university halls of residence led to his car window being smashed.

Ali Alp, 23, who jointly owns the George II pub in Bute Street, Luton, complained to the University of Bedfordshire vice chancellor after fireworks were set off in the street outside the Bute halls, which is opposite his pub.

Mr Alp, who is a former University of Bedfordshire student, said: "On Wednesday night people were setting off fireworks in the street and one smashed up the back windscreen of my car.

"I've reported this to the police and I phoned the vice chancellor of the university but no-one is getting back to me. The university aren't doing anything about it.

"This problem has been going on for the past 18 months and it's getting worse. It was always bad but nothing to this extent.

"They hang around in groups and fight and argue at night. You know they are students because they have got past the security they have there.

"On Wednesday night we had around 40 or 50 people in the pub but we had to close early for safety reasons.

"The university needs to take more responsibility and do something." University of Bedfordshire registrar Alice Hynes said: "I did contact Mr Alp to say we were taking his complaint very seriously and looking into it.

"The university takes very seriously any complaint involving the university from a member of the public.

"The university is investigating an incident near one of our halls of residence on Wednesday evening and if we find students were involved and broke the terms of the university's disciplinary code we will take action against them."

A Bedfordshire Police spokeswoman said: "Safer neighbourhood officers attended the same area where there was a large group of people causing disorder on September 17 but no-one wanted to complain. The same happened on October 9.

"If anyone is at all concerned about anti-social behaviour in their area they should contact their local safer neighbourhood team so we can build a picture of what's happening and identify those responsible so we can take action."

Meanwhile, on Thursday morning, paramedics attended another halls of residence in Park Street, Luton where two teenage girls received superficial burns to their neck and chest after fireworks were lit inside a block.

Prison for pair who lied to cops

THE father and girlfriend of a drunk driver who fled the scene of a fatal crash have been jailed for lying to police over his whereabouts.

Christopher Jasper, 25, crashed his BMW into a tree in Lowther Road, Dunstable, on December 27 last year after drinking at a pub.

He killed his friend in the front seat, 26-year-old builder Paul Robinson, and seriously injured back seat passenger Ryan O'Neill.

He fled the scene and could not be breath tested. He was jailed for five years earlier this year for causing death by dangerous driving.

On Friday Judge John Bevan QC said: "The evidence is that he reeked of alcohol and had been drinking steadily for four hours and was almost certainly over the legal limit.

"Had he been breathalysed at the time it would have resulted in a sentence well above the five years he received."

Jasper's father, Glen, 46, and mother Annie, 49, were convicted after a trial of perverting the course of justice in the crash's aftermath.

The driver's girlfriend, Tanya Cameron, 25, pleaded guilty to the charge.

Judge Bevan said the parents had lied to police over a seven hour period by concealing he had been driven away from the scene. He said Cameron had pretended for longer that she did not know where he was and washed the clothes he had been wearing.

Glen Jasper, of Vallance End, Dunstable, was jailed for nine months at Luton Crown Court and his wife was given a nine month sentence suspended for two years with 100 hours unpaid work.

Cameron, of Harcourt Street, Luton, was jailed for six months.

IT'S the same the whole world over, it's the poor that gets the blame. It's the rich that gets the pleasure, ain't it all a blooming shame.

This ditty came to mind when the latest price hikes in air flight taxes was announced. This is apparently a 'green' tax, ie has nothing to do with raising revenue but all about changing our habits and life-styles.

Yet this is obviously a tax which will hit the less well off the hardest and is designed to ensure ordinary working people take holidays abroad, if an airplane is needed to get them there, less often. The rich will still be able to jet off, along with the 'green' middle classes, who will also no doubt have to travel by air to their conferences calling on fewer people to travel by air.

For many years now such people harboured a quiet resentment over the fact that plebs have discovered the Mediterranean and invaded these once tranquil hideaways.

Where little fishing villages used to exist, with one small hotel, a tapas bar and feral children, shoeless and bronzed, now there are great complexes designed to keep the raucous families from the nation's housing estates in beer, coke and pizzas. Such package holidays also played a large part in eradicating poverty in countries such as Portugal, Spain and Greece.

The discerning traveller now eschews the package holiday and books flights, hotels etc herself.

Higher green tax to hit ordinary folk

This has been helped by cheap airlines such as easyJet and Ryanair, which in turn aid our local economy by flying out of Luton and Stansted.

I remember Lauri Lee, a far better writer than me, or anyone else for that matter, saying how much better it was for the people of southern Spain to have jobs and prosperity, instead of rickets and poverty. Now much of this: the already difficult economies of countries round the Med, the wealth and jobs created by low budget airlines, the ability of ordinary families to get a bit of sun, sangria and culture, is considered less important than deterring people from flying through price rationing.

And I have not even seen a decent argument in favour of this rationing. Planes are much quieter and more fuel efficient these days, businessmen travel less, due to the recession and video conferencing, and expensive holidays have also been cut due to the recession.

It is just a mean way to punish those who work hard, as well as another source of revenue for the Government which disproportionately hits the less well off. If flights have to be rationed, why not do it more fairly? Perhaps everyone could be limited to just two flights a year, which I accept would damage the conference industry but would have an element of fairness about it. I recognise that is about as likely as pigs flying and more flight tax hikes are on the way. Making the little people pay and telling them it's for their own good has been the hallmark of governments for centuries.

IMAY regret this but I fully support Richard Money, the Luton boss and find it difficult to see what their fans have to complain about.

I know football fans moan for a living but the Hatters are doing well and have a real chance of promotion. What more can they want? =But fans always do. I have one or two friends and colleagues who support Manchester City. They were always good fun and seemed a friendly bunch.

Now the money and promise of fame has turned their heads, so that finishing fifth in the Premiership will be a failure and no doubt cost the manager his job.

Bill Shankly was wrong - it is just a game.

Hundreds sign-up against plans to close The Mount

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN ACTION group to stop the planned closure of a dementia care home has begun petitioning government ministers to prevent it happening.

Family members of residents at The Mount care home have decided to club together to form Friends of The Mount to stop it being shut down by Luton Borough Council in a bid to save more than £600,000 a year.

They have also joined forces with Richard Shea and his wife Geraldine and Charlie Kiely who were independently collecting signatures against the plans.

In just one day's canvassing they got more than 300 signatures.

Richard Shea, of Field End Close, Stopsley, started collecting signatures against the council's proposal to close the home in Tennyson Road, Luton, because he was so angry about the decision - despite not having any connection to the facility.

But since the announcement of the plan, which is currently going through a 90-day formal consultation, it has met criticism.

Mr Shea said: "I just think it is absolutely awful they are trying to close it. We want people to be aware of what is going on and the effect it will have."

Sandy McDowell, who has been appointed as chairwoman, said: "I have sent letters to everyone I can think of to try to get them to rethink their decision."

Councillor Mahmood Hussain, who is the executive member responsible for the care of older residents, spoke to Luton on Sunday exclusively about the home.

He said: "The impression has been created the decision has been made to close the home. No decision has been made.

"We want to create better quality care for residents of The Mount and to look at alternatives.

"There are a number of brand new facilities coming up and what we're asking is for residents and relatives to look at this.

"This is not because of the staff - who are doing a fantastic job - but because of the facility itself. It was built in 1911 and the standards are not high enough."

When asked about the possible traumatic effects current dementia residents may experience in moving, Cllr Hussain said: "The health and well-being of each of the residents is our No1 priority and a discussion of the care needs of each individual with the relatives or carers is available.

"One thing the council does not have is the money to redevelop the Mount in the present circumstances."

If you would like to add your name to the petition, or would like to be part of Friends of The Mount, email Sandy McDowell at sandy\_mcdowell@btinternet.co.uk

A final decision will be made in February by the executive.

Respects paid to 'gentle giant' Cliff

TRIBUTES have been paid to boxing legend Cliff Field, who died last Sunday at the age of 67.

In a long and distinguished career, Dunstable-born Field sparred with some of the greats in the 1970s, including Muhammad Ali and Joe Bugner.

An unlicensed boxing champion, he is perhaps best known for defeating 'The Guv'nor' Lenny McLean twice, both by knockout in the first round.

Known as a fierce and aggressive fighter, outside of the ring he was described as a 'gentle giant' by nearly all who knew him.

A book dedicated to his career was due to be released on Friday, entitled A Cut Above the Rest: A Cliff Field Story.

His funeral will be held on November 12, at Priory Church in Dunstable.

Motorway closed after lorry accident

EMPTY AND BUSY: The deserted M1, above, and busy roads around Luton, below

AN overturned lorry caused chaos on the M1 on Thursday morning.

The East of England Ambulance Service were alerted to the M1 between junctions ten and 11 on the northbound carriageway at 3.30am.

Ambulance crews from Luton, St Albans and Stevenage attended the scene and because of the nature of the call, the trust's hazardous area response team were also deployed.

Ambulance service spokesman Gary Sanderson said: "The initial 999 call we received stated a lorry had overturned and was on fire.

"There were also reports of other vehicles involved and people trapped. Luckily there were no injuries and our service was not required."

The motorway was reopened after ten hours.

Avoiding cancer risks

SIR – I urge your readers to pay attention to a letter from World Cancer Research Fund (WCRF) that will be landing on their doormats in the next few days.

WCRF has a vital message that can help us all reduce our cancer risk. Following my own breast cancer diagnosis 12 years ago, WCRF gave me the information I needed to lead a healthier lifestyle.

Scientists estimate that about a third of the most common cancers could be prevented by following a healthy diet, being physically active and maintaining a healthy weight.

The guidance WCRF give is something I am able to pass on to my daughter Lisa and granddaughter Siena to help reduce the risk of cancer in their futures.

Please support World Cancer Research Fund. You can visit their website at www.wcrcf-uk.org or call 020 7343 4205.

An alternative to meat

SIR – November is Vegan Month – an annual initiative that encourages people to think about their food choices and question why some animals are loved and taken into our homes, while others are farmed and exploited for their flesh, milk and eggs.

Animal Aid's new four-minute web-based film 'Where Does My Milk Come From?' describes the life of the dairy cow and her 'waste by-product' calves.

It traces the history of modern dairy farming from the quest for self-sufficiency at the end of the Second World War to the emergence of massive mega-dairies.

It looks at milk-related health issues and sets out a range of attractive dairy-free alternatives readily available from high street shops and supermarkets.

Animal products are not essential for a healthy diet. In fact, a large number of studies show that a balanced and varied 100 per cent plant-based diet is ideal for optimum health and lowers the risk of obesity, heart disease, diabetes, some cancers and other diet-related illnesses.

To view the film and to order a free Guide to Going Vegan, visit www.govegan.org.uk or call 01732 364546.

Charity begins... where?

I DO believe in charity, and try to give what I can. But some charities, especially the clothing collection ones are starting to annoy me.

I get about ten clothing bags put through my letter box each week. Do they think I have the wardrobe of David Beckham?

I do hope that everyone gives generously on Poppy Day, and wears their poppy with pride.

On a separate issue, after reading in the newspapers that millions of immigrants are flocking to Britain with the right to claim benefits, the quicker we get out of the EC, the better.

How dare they threaten our country with the EU's Court of Justice. What's happened to our referendum Mr Cameron.

SIR – Local papers have recently brought to our attention problems at two care homes in Luton who care for people with dementia – The Mount, in Tennyson Road, which is threatened with closure and The Griffin, where standards of care are reported as being not up to the required standard.

I do not intend to join the debate on these two issues, but want to raise a related issue which has been concerning me for some time – it is this.

What are the powers-that-be doing about the increasing number of people who still live in their own homes but are developing dementia?

Every dementia case is different, some people become violent, some because of their forgetfulness become a danger to themselves, others become a target for abuse – not everyone with problems will be able to get into a care home or sheltered accommodation.

The Alzheimer's Society has for some years been forecasting what the increasing numbers of people with dementia will grow to be and that number is frightening – but is anyone in authority taking them seriously?

Just before the General Election the Alzheimer's Society was pressing for the next government to train more carers in dementia care, but I suspect their plea fell on deaf ears. I want to make a plea to Luton Council – please start to compile a register of people living alone who appear to be developing dementia-type problems.

Encourage friends and neighbours to report to the council officials or their ward councillors if they have concerns about someone. Such people could try to devise a strategy for discreetly observing those at risk to see how they are coping.

None of us likes to read of someone having lain dead in their home for several weeks, but with the number of dementia sufferers on the increase and many neighbours being much less neighbourly than they used to be when I was a child, I believe the number of people who will die alone in their own homes will increase considerably.

Yes, I know that we are facing the greatest economic crisis there has been for many years but there are some problems that we cannot ignore and dementia is one of them.

It is not going to go away – more people are going to become victims so putting a massive strain on our health service.

Ruth Fisher
Swifts Green Close, Luton

No one has the right to tell us what we can and can't do in our own country – no one.

John Tucker

Taking an active role

SIR – Local people in and around the Dunstable area begin to witness the unravelling of the cuts in budgets and services from a local council perspective, which will without doubt affect both individuals and particular organisations, in terms of service delivery, quality of service delivery and indeed in some cases the removal of a service.

It is the view of Bedfordshire Liberal Party that where it is clearly identified that a person's quality of life will be eroded by the removal of a service or a cut in service delivery, it is essential that there is a coming together of communities that feel a genuine desire to say 'no I won't simply shrug my shoulders and say "oh well it's going to happen anyway".'

Local people should support each other should there be an overwhelming case for that service not to be removed.

Resident and community action is a powerful voice when a credible case is put and local people show via various means – petitions, demonstrations etc – that they value what they have and are prepared to come together and fight to keep it.

While there may well be politicians who will tell you 'sorry there is simply no other way', let's be very clear, at a national level there are plenty of options at the disposal of David Cameron and Nick Clegg.

The implications in relation to the fact that they have chosen not to take them won't be theirs, they will be felt in local communities and that includes Dunstable and the surrounding areas.

It is essential therefore that the campaigning spirit is shown in the weeks and months ahead and community action must be at the forefront. After all they are your services and it is your money and they must be worth fighting for.

I am not that naive to think that economies, where they make sense, should not be implemented. However, where they don't make any moral sense or no financial sense and are being done because people have an ideology of being anti public service, then the local community should be of a mind to make a stand and put community action at the forefront.

The Big Society is made up of 'the community' and plenty may well volunteer, but equally plenty can join together when needed to protect their local society.

Peter Burrows
Bedfordshire Liberal Party

Marsh Farm clarity

SIR – Regarding Steve Lowe's column last Sunday, 'Marsh Farm farce' we would like to make the following clarification.

There is no corporate, governance or any other link between the two organisations.

Lysle Osborne

Bypass is not finalised

SIR – I am writing in response to your article regarding the announcement that the Dunstable Bypass or A5/M1 Link road as some people call it, will be built in five years' time.

As an official objector to this project I am amazed that such a decision can be made without the results of the forthcoming public inquiry. This is not a done deal.

Mr Selous MP states that the announcement is fantastic news for Dunstable and other areas.

Has he spared a thought for the people whose lives will be turned upside down by this bypass?

Villages such as Chalton will be ruined by the construction of this road.

Miles of beautiful countryside will be lost forever and the effect on wildlife will be immense.

I live fairly close to where this road would be built and it would devastating to see it built.

We moved here to live close to the countryside, we walk our dog in lovely fields and woodland and this would no longer be possible.

Another point I'd like to make is that the location of this proposed bypass doesn't actually bypass Dunstable!

It only runs to the north of it. Anyone travelling on the A5 from the south of the town would still have to drive through it.

Also, the M1 is gridlocked every morning. How would it cope with more traffic being put on it from the new bypass?

The bypass could also have the reverse effect. If the M1 was busy traffic may use the bypass to take another route through Dunsdale thus causing more congestion.

This bypass is not a miracle cure and has not been thought through. Other methods of solving Dunstable's congestion problem must be looked at before destroying more countryside and turning people's lives upside down."

Pigeon compassion

SIR – I was saddened and disturbed by the article about pigeons at the L&D Hospital in last week's Luton on Sunday.

The cruel and inhumane way that the pigeons were killed was despicable. I have been in the L&D myself and feel that it has lots of problems to address regarding the health hazards and I feel pigeons are the least of these.

For example, I had to tread carefully to avoid hundreds of cigarette ends thrown carelessly about outside the maternity unit, not to mention the spit from people who hang about outside smoking.

Pigeons unfortunately are easy victims as they can't fight back.

Baby pigeons are exceptionally pretty birds and obviously intelligent if they are clever enough to know the pattern of the 'controlling hawk'.

It's one thing to scare them off but quite another to kill them so carelessly. Why do I think that these specialist contractors who are called into 'dispatch' them get pleasure out of their cruel work?

Thank goodness some people like Debbie Mills who reported the incident feels compassion as I do for these birds.

Linda Benton
Meadway, Dunstable

This should be illegal

SIR – Regarding your story last week headlined 'Pigeons' necks wrung in view of hospital patients'.

I just want to say I can't believe this happened in view of members of the public and no steps were taken to prevent this from being the case.

It should be against the law for this to happen – what if children had seen it going on?

Name and address supplied

Remembering the RAF

SIR – This November the nation will stop to remember all those who have given their lives in the service of their country.

Of course, all three services deserve our thoughts and prayers at this time, but in this Battle of Britain 70th anniversary year it's important that we show our appreciation for the contribution made by members of the Royal Air Force.

It represents an extraordinary moment in our history, and one that should not be forgotten.

At the RAF Benevolent Fund, the RAF's leading welfare charity, we are devoted to honouring the debt of gratitude we owe to all those who have served, and continue to serve, in the Royal Air Force.

We do this by providing financial and practical support to all members of the RAF family in need.

That means we help those who have served in any rank, in any role, at any time, right up to those serving today in Afghanistan and elsewhere.

This November, I would urge any of your readers who think they might be eligible for our assistance, or who know someone in need of support, to contact the RAF Benevolent Fund.

You can do this by calling our free support line on 0800 198 2400.

To find out more about the charity's work, or to apply for support online, please visit www.rafbf.org

Arsonist told sentence was not 'excessive'

BY LUI STRACCIA
lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN who lit a fire in the home of his girlfriend's ex-husband has been told by top judges he deserved every day of his sentence.

Sajid Saleem, of Marlborough Road, Luton, was handed two years and three months detention in a young offenders' institution at Luton Crown Court in May this year, after he admitted damaging property and was convicted of arson.

On Tuesday, 20-year-old Saleem challenged his sentence at London's Criminal Appeal Court, with lawyers arguing it was over the top for his crimes.

But judges dismissed the appeal, saying the sentence could not be described as 'excessive', given the serious nature of the arson attack.

Mr Justice King, sitting with Lord Justice Stanley Burton and Mr Justice Nichol, told the court Saleem was in a relationship with his victim's ex-wife at the time of the incident in May last year.

The court heard the victim had lived with his wife and son in the house, but had decided to change the locks after they separated - which meant she could not get access to the house.

At about 8pm on May 19 last year, Saleem and his girlfriend went to the terraced house and were seen taking items from there.

Within five minutes of them leaving, neighbours reported smoke coming from the house and the fire brigade was called.

It was discovered the cause of the smoke was a burning towel, which had been placed under the bath, and caused damage to the bathroom.

Saleem was sentenced on the basis the fire was not planned or premeditated, but he had set the towel ablaze 'on a whim'.

The court heard he was already serving a term of detention for violent disorder, committed in August last year, when he was sentenced for arson and damaging property.

Saleem's lawyers argued his sentence was too long. But, dismissing the appeal, Mr Justice King said it was 'patently clear' the sentencing judge had carefully considered the case before jailing Saleem.

Police appeal to reunite jewellery with owners

POLICE are looking to return suspected stolen goods to their rightful owners.

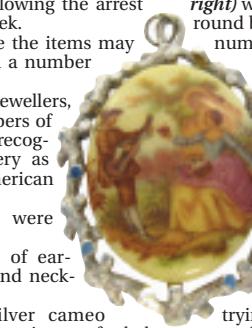

The appeal comes from detectives in Dunstable who have recovered the jewellery following the arrest of a man this week.

Officers believe the items may have come from a number of burglaries.

It is possible jewellers, dealers or members of the public may recognise the jewellery as well as two American dollar bills.

The following were found:

- A selection of earrings, watches and necklaces
- An oval silver cameo charm featuring a picture of a lady and a man
- A chunky gold bracelet (pictured)
- A gold boat charm
- A thousand dollar bill
- A one dollar bill

■ A Ceinqny ladies watch with a rose gold coloured frame, oblong face featuring two large numerals '12' and '6'.

Investigating officer Vicky Gibson said: "We have reason to believe that the jewellery may be stolen and are hoping members of the public will recognise the items as their own. We are trying to trace the owner or owners of the jewellery or anyone who knows anything about it."

If you think this is your jewellery or you know who it belongs to contact, Vicky Gibson, in confidence, on 01582 473210, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Woman quizzed over aggressive begging

A WOMAN has been arrested in connection with a spate of begging.

The incidents happened during October in the Sundon Park and Marsh Road areas of Luton, with reports suggesting a woman stops her car forcing the vehicle behind her to also halt.

She then gets out of her vehicle and approaches the other motorist and begins to beg for money, sometimes aggressively.

A 32-year-old woman was arrested on October 28 in connection with these reports and has been released on police bail until January 4, 2011.

Investigating police officer Emma Rackley is keen to trace other members of the public who have fallen prey to this kind of incident in the county, as similar offences have also been reported in Bedford town centre.

She said: "We are trying to piece together exactly what this person has been up to and we need to speak to anyone who has handed money over to this person or anyone who was stopped by her but refused to hand over cash.

Labour dilute Tory's 'work together' plea

BY CHRISTINA JOHNSON
christina.johnson@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MOTION put forward for Luton Borough Council to support 'the efforts of the Coalition Government in their efforts to reduce the deficit' was amended by the Labour majority.

Conservative councillor Michael Garrett presented the motion at the meeting of the full council on Tuesday.

Cllr Garrett said he put this forward for the three main parties to set aside their political differences to 'help save the country and Luton', but maintains Labour left the country 'on the edge of an economic abyss'.

During the meeting he said: "The Coalition Government inherited the largest deficit in peacetime history.

"We must support the coalition in every way we can. We must join together as with the 'big society' so that our children and our children's children are not left this legacy of debt.

"I understand that it is going to be difficult for most families to bear this burden. But if we neglect our duty then the future could look very bleak indeed."

However, the motion was amended by the council, which has a Labour majority, and part of it states the council 'recognises the need to make efforts to reduce the deficit, but believes that significant reductions in Government spending should be at a pace which does not recklessly put the economy at risk.'

PROPOSER: Cllr Michael Garrett

DISSENTER: Cllr Robin Harris

'[The council] supports the view of the Institute for Fiscal Studies that the Government's cuts are regressive, and that the poorest will pay the most.'

Speaking after the meeting Cllr Garrett said: "We know there are differences but because the issue is so grave we should put away our differences. That's the argument I put forward but was rejected by Labour."

Labour councillor Robin Harris said: "The motion didn't ask us to put aside our differences but to congratulate the coalition on the way it's dealing with the deficit."

"It is very hard to put aside our differences when the cuts are going to be devastating the economy, jobs and particularly to the poorest people in the community. They are going to be hit the hardest."

"We amended the motion to show what we thought."

A journey through

IT took Anne Allsopp three years to write A History of Luton.

The retired school teacher was approached by publishers Phillimore to undertake the project in 2007 when she was 74.

She completed it earlier this year and is very proud of the town in which she was born and raised.

But where did the name 'Luton' come from? Mrs Allsopp thinks it could be down to where it all started.

She said: "The meaning of Luton could be 'the town on the Lea'.

"Luton owes its existence to the River Lea. It goes back a thousands years. Luton grew up on the river. It's quite relevant to its history."

"I have an archaeologist friend who would like to go back hundreds of thousands of years, but we haven't done that in this book."

The River Lea is now a small stream but once powered seven mills. Archaeological discoveries have revealed that people have settled in the area for many thousands of years.

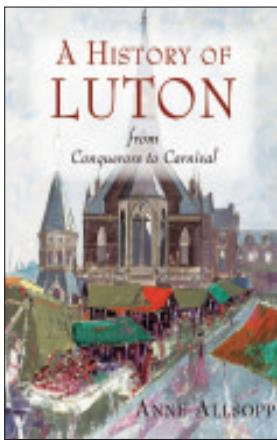

Julius Caesar may have passed through in AD 54 and William the Conqueror came this way one thousand years later.

There are all kinds of different aspects to Luton's life, and there is not enough room in this article to fit them all in.

Mrs Allsopp believes Luton's elevation to borough status in 1876 was one of the town's most crucial moments.

LUTON has a rich and colourful past – and you can read all about it in a new book.

'A History of Luton: From conquerors to Carnival', written by born and bred Lutonian Anne Allsopp, aged 77, will be released in shops on Wednesday. She spoke about her book to Lui Straccia.

RECORDING LUTON'S LIFE: Anne Allsopp's new history of the town burning down of the Town Hall in 1919.

On Peace Day, July 19, ex-service men unhappy with unemployment and other grievances rioted.

The trouble started after members of the council arrived to read out the King's proclamation and many in the crowd expressed their disapproval.

Tension boiled over into violence and a number of protesters broke through the police line and forcibly entered the Town Hall.

Shortly after, a number of violent clashes took place with the Town Hall being stormed by the crowd and eventually set on fire.

Mrs Allsopp added: "My uncle was there. It turned nasty. The day the Town Hall was burnt down was truly one of the biggest happenings in Luton's history."

In the book there is also a chapter on Luton in wartime.

Mrs Allsopp said: "People say you should forget the war, that you should get over it. But I can't get over it.

"It shouldn't be forgotten, especially if you've grown up with it. I was between the ages of six and 12 during the Second World War."

During the war, Luton played an important part in the manufacture of army vehicles, and children bound for school had to mind the Churchill tanks which were on their way to various theatres of conflict.

Mrs Allsopp added: "I can tell you one of the most amazing memories was dodging the tanks in their convoys on the way to school at the time.

"There were no lollipop ladies in those days, so we would try to cross the road with convoys passing through."

As a girl, Mrs Allsopp attended Luton High School for Girls and went on to teach in the town before gaining an MA and PhD at the London Institute of Education.

She published a book on Luton High School and the Technical School to celebrate what would have been the centenary of selective education, and another on the education and employment of girls in the town.

In A History of Luton, there is a chapter on multiculturalism. It is one of the main additions to one of the previous books on the town, 'The Story of Luton'.

Mrs Allsopp said: "The Story of Luton, which was co-written by Dr James Dyer in 1964, helped me very much. Many thanks to him.

"Since that was written though,

Luton has changed drastically – now it is multicultural – which is why a new book needed to be written."

A History of Luton: From Conquerors to Carnival will be available from The Book Castle in Church Street, Dunstable, published by Phillimore & Co Ltd at £20.

Uni boss asks Government to think again on tuition fee rise

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE head of the University of Bedfordshire has blasted the Government's plans to charge students tuition fees of up to £9,000 a year.

On Wednesday, Universities Minister David Willetts announced proposals to allow the charges to come into force by 2012.

In a Commons statement he said the 'basic threshold' would be £6,000, but there would be a limit of £9,000 if institutions participated in schemes to increase take-up among poor students.

The announcement followed the publication of a report on university finance in England produced by Lord Browne last month in which he concluded the current cap on tuition fees of £3,290 per year should be removed.

the individual and not to society and the economy. This is not an approach which is being followed in any of the UK's competitor countries.

"The big risk is that participation and social mobility will be damaged.

"If Parliament accepts these proposals, students will have no option but to take out much larger fee loans although the wealthiest will still be able to pay fees up front or will be able to pay off early.

"Universities will do everything possible to support students but MPs do have an alternative. Instead of accepting this much higher fee cap, they could vote to ensure that additional teaching funding is provided and that the extra costs of widening participation students are met.

"This would be a much better way of ensuring fairness and would undoubtedly deliver lower fees and do much more to promote the social mobility which the Coalition Government says it values."

Chancellor Les Ebdon believes MPs 'should think again about cutting public investment in undergraduate teaching'. Speaking as chairman of the think tank million+, Professor Ebdon (above) said: "The Government appears to believe that higher education is only of value to

New community centre will offer a wide range of services

A COMMUNITY centre will be officially launched this Thursday.

Limbury Fields Children & Community Centre, in Icknield Way, Luton, will initially be open Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm, from November 11.

Visitors are free to drop in between 9.30am and 2.30pm where they can meet the new team, have a look around the centre and see what services and activities are available. A dietician will be on hand to offer advice on healthy eating and a member of the childminders' association will be present providing details on child minding opportunities.

Children will be entertained with free play sessions and light refreshments will be served throughout the day. Services on offer include 'play and stay' sessions, a new mums' group, grandparents' group, adult education courses, diet and nutritional advice.

Centre manager Cathy Hackett said: "It's a small centre but we have lots of services to offer, so please visit us and see how we can help support you and your family.

"We also hope small groups looking for a cost effective place to meet will come and be based at the centre.

"We really would love to hear local people's views so come and tell us what you think about our new centre."

In March, additional services will start including a baby feeding clinic providing advice on breast feeding and parent craft classes.

Council urges us not to forget ...

SPARE a thought for brave soldiers on Remembrance Day.

That is the message from Luton Borough Council, which will once again be supporting the Royal British Legion's Remembrance Service to honour people who have given their lives in past and present conflicts.

The service will take place on Sunday, November 14 from 10.57am at the war memorial outside the Town Hall (right).

A number of organisations will parade from Park Street West to the war memorial where at 11am a two minutes silence will be observed.

The silence will start and end by the sounding of the Last Post and Reveille.

This will be followed by an exhortation and the recital of the Kohima epitaph, which is read to remember Commonwealth forces.

Luton Mayor Tom Shaw will follow the reading by laying the first wreath, accompanied by representatives of ex-service organisations.

A selection of hymn, prayers and readings will succeed the laying of the wreaths, followed by the national anthem and benediction from Reverend Canon Nick Bell. After the service, the mayor and civic party will proceed around the war memorial to carry out the march past.

The parade will then march back to Park Street West.

Cllr Shaw said: "Remembrance Sunday serves as an opportunity for us to express our gratitude to the many men and women in the armed forces who have given their lives for their country.

"We should also take the time to think about the brave soldiers who are currently serving to protect and save the lives of others in conflicts across the world."

Council staff will be honouring Remembrance Day by taking part in a two-minute silence on Thursday, November 11 at 11am.

Life is more than just a beach in Tenerife

TRAVEL

TENERIFE

YEAR round sun, sea and sand. The quintessential beach holiday must include those three ingredients, and for many the thought of going to Tenerife would be the ideal destination.

But for those who decide to fly down to the largest Canary Island to simply sit on a beach would be missing out on so much more.

In fact, only 14 of the island's 360 kilometre coastline is dedicated to tourism. The rest is a rough and ragged coastline shaped by its volcanic history.

Mount Teide, the volcano that sits on the top of the island, looks over the whole of the area and shapes not only the landscape but the culture and whole vibe of the island.

Adventure seekers should head to the Cueva del Viento (Caves of the wind) in Icod de los Vinos, where some of the world's largest lava tunnels formed can be found.

With the lava long gone, I was able to explore the subterranean world in a group with a guide. The experience was quite extraordinary, especially when the guide encouraged my group to turn off our headlamps to experience the cave in its total darkness. It was only then that you could feel the eerie winds that give the tunnels their names.

Mount Teide dominates the skyline across the island, and it is well worth a visit up to the National Park – a UNESCO world heritage site that was formed from millions of years' worth of volcanic eruptions.

Travelling up to the site is an experience in itself.

As you drive up the winding mountain roads, you pass through miles of pine forests, which eventually become hazed in thick white cloud as you reach altitude. As the trees slowly diminish, and the clouds part, you find yourself entering what can only be described as another world.

After leaving our tour bus, I found myself standing in the middle of an alien landscape that quite literally took my breath away. The natural monuments that are scattered along the landscape sit between volcanic dust and lava flows. It truly is one of the most spectacular places on earth, and little wonder that film makers have used it as the back drop to films such as the original Planet of the Apes and the recent remake of the Clash of the Titans.

Not only does the volcano provide spectacular scenery across Tenerife, but it is responsible for the fertile land that the locals use to grow vines which make fantastic wine. For those who cherish wine, a visit to Bodegas Monje, a vineyard in El Sauzal, on the northern side of the island, is a must.

The tour around the winery shows how the local people have combined modern wine making techniques with traditional methods. One type, the Monje Tradicional, is crushed in modern grape presses but is still aged in 300-year-old barrels.

The tasting tour at the vineyard also provides you with a sit down tasting session, where you can try three types of wine accompanied with a selection of traditional Canarian snacks for the very reasonable price of £12.

For those of a more relaxed disposition, a lazy trip out to sea can be arranged from the marina in Puerto Colon, where a vessel cruises the seas between Tenerife and La Gomera in search for Pilot whales.

The whales and their family pods come right up to the boat for all to see through a combination of curiosity and showmanship.

Those who prefer to remain on land can be spoilt by the cosmopolitan atmosphere of the capital city of the island, Santa Cruz. The winding streets are packed with bars and restaurants which spill out into the streets into the evening. It is in these quaint settings that you can enjoy local wines and beers, with traditional tapas and 'Mojo' sauces.

If all of that doesn't sound appealing, you could always just go for the year round sun, sea, and sand.

WHAT'S ON

WILDLIFE PHOTOGRAPHER OF THE YEAR EXHIBITION

Stockwood Discovery Centre, Luton
 Saturday, November 13 - January 13, 2011, various times

A BABY orangutan in Borneo, a snake preying on a gecko and a black and white lion portrait are among the highly commended images in the Wildlife Photographer of the Year 2009 exhibition.

The display includes the winning entries to the most prestigious photography event of its kind in the world.

In its 46th year, the competition received a record number of entries, 43,135 in total, from 94 countries around the world.

The result is a truly international view of our world and a reflection on the power of photography.

British snapper Robert Friel was highly commended in the One Earth Award category, which seeks to highlight interaction between humans and the natural world.

He captured his amusing, but thought-provoking, 'Footprints' photo of a curious king penguin chick on the sub-Antarctic island of South Georgia.

He said: 'As I was walking back along the foreshore to the landing site, I was looking at the tracks penguins were making in the wet sand when a chick walked towards my footprints.'

'It seemed to consider them briefly before moving back to the other groups of penguins.'

'I thought it merely a quirky moment, but later it became a more poignant reminder that, however brief and well managed our visits, we are intruding on their environment.'

European Social Fund Co-financed Skills & Training

Luton Borough Council, as approved Co-financing Organisation (CFO) for the European Social Fund (ESF), is seeking expressions of interest from suitably qualified and experienced organisations to provide skills and training activities supported by this fund. These activities will deliver training and support to help unemployed and economically inactive people to develop their skills and enter sustainable employment, particularly those at a disadvantage in the labour market. There will also be one or more projects to offer level 2 and level 3 qualifications to employees of small to medium sized enterprises (SMEs) in Luton.

Initially, applicants are requested to complete an electronic pre-qualification questionnaire (PQQ) that will be available on or after 4th November 2010 through the website www.localgovsourcing.co.uk

It is anticipated that the PQQ will close at noon on 17th December 2010. Only those organisations that are successful at the PQQ stage will be invited to tender for ESF co-financed activity during the 2011 to 2013 funding period.

Please note that individuals and sole traders cannot tender for ESF funded contracts.

If you have any queries or wish to discuss this further please contact Angela Rowney on 01582 546270 or est@luton.gov.uk

OVER THE TOP: Dylan Hartley fights his way through the defence to score England's first try during a pulsating clash against the All Blacks yesterday

Johnno: We blew it

ENGLAND produced a rousing second-half performance at Twickenham, but it was not enough to overhaul Tri Nations champions New Zealand.

The All Blacks, who had not lost to England since 2003, stormed into a 14-0 lead after 20 minutes with tries from Hosea Gear and Kieran Read and they led 17-3 at the interval.

England, on the back of a powerful scrummaging performance, hit back and engineered a debut Test try for Dylan Hartley.

New Zealand finished the match firmly on the back foot and with Jerome Kaino in the sin-bin, but they succeeded in holding England at bay with Dan Carter booting 16 points.

England boss Martin Johnson admitted he was frustrated with the team's start, but admitted the second-half was better.

"There was lots of good stuff," he said. "We looked rusty a few times in the first half. The good thing for us is we go again next week against Australia." Nick Easter

Werner overseas plan thrown out

TODAY'S ACTION

LIVERPOOL v CHELSEA 4pm, Sky Sports 1

LIVERPOOL would not be allowed to organise a Premier League fixture overseas, it was confirmed yesterday.

New Reds co-owner Tom Werner is keen for the club to play a regular-season match abroad, saying: "Pre-season matches are great, but why not have an actual match in season?" However, a Premier League spokesman said that Liverpool and another top-flight club could not unilaterally stage a match outside of England.

Me a n w h i l e Liverpool boss Roy Hodgson believes his side pose enough of a threat to give Chelsea "a hell of a game" today. He added: "It is sure to be a quality match."

WERNER: Prem plans

ENGLAND 16
NEW ZEALAND 26

admitted a sloppy 15-minute period early on was to blame for England's loss.

The No.8 said: "We prepared as well as we can and definitely we were a bit sloppy. We were very disappointing for 15 minutes in the first half."

"There was too much to do in the end. We can take a little bit of heart from that."

New Zealand captain Richie McCaw said: "I think we are still guilty of giving away too many chances. There were times when we had breaks and did not hang on to the ball."

England made one change from their 21-20 victory over Australia in the summer, with Andrew Sheridan returning at loose-head prop after shoulder surgery kept him for the majority of last season.

Sheridan played his part as England dominated the All Blacks scrum, but the visitors hit back with two tries. Inevitably the first was created by former Kiwi rugby league star Sonny Bill Williams. The debutant centre drew two men in midfield before offloading to Kaino, the marauding flanker who charged deep into the England half before finding Gear.

Chris Ashton did his best to bundle the All Blacks wing into touch, but the try was awarded and Carter converted.

Carter carved England open straight from the restart and Ashton had to retreat to collect Gear's chip and concede a five-metre scrum.

England halted Gear's run on the crash ball, but Read drove over the line by the posts and Carter's simple conversion opened a 14-0 lead for the All Blacks.

Hartley came on for Steve Thompson after the break and the dynamic Rotorua-born hooker made an immediate impact, scoring his first Test try to bring England back into the game just before the hour.

England spent the last 15 minutes camped in New Zealand territory and piled on the pressure, but the All Blacks stood firm.

BARCLAYS PREMIER LEAGUE ROUND-UP

PARK JI-SUNG scored in the third minute of stoppage-time as Manchester United snatched a dramatic 2-1 victory over Wolves to move to within two points of Chelsea at the top.

Park had put United ahead on the stroke of half-time before former Old Trafford trainee Sylvan Ebanks-Blake levelled from close range.

The defeat kept Wolves second bottom of the table, two points ahead of WEST HAM, who blew the chance to record their first away win in the League since the opening day of last season as BIRMINGHAM came from 2-0 down to draw at St Andrew's.

Asamoah Gyan marked his first Premier League start with a double as SUNDERLAND secured a 2-0 win over 10-man STOKE.

BLACKBURN hauled themselves out of the relegation zone at WIGAN's expense with a 2-1 win, BLACKPOOL twice threw away the lead as they drew 2-2 with EVERTON. Breda Hangeland scored deep into stoppage-time to rescue a 1-1 draw for FULHAM against ASTON VILLA and BOLTON beat SPURS 3-2.

The Hulk stuns Hamilton & Co

NICO HULKENBERG caused a sensation in qualifying for the Brazilian Grand Prix by claiming Williams' first pole position for five-and-a-half years.

Not since the European Grand Prix at the Nurburgring in May 2005 have the Grove-based marque claimed top spot, but Hulkenberg made the most of the unusual wet conditions at Interlagos to clinch pole.

Behind the 23-year-old German are the four main title contenders in Red Bull duo Sebastian Vettel and Mark Webber, along with McLaren's Lewis Hamilton and Ferrari's Fernando Alonso.

A beaming Hulkenberg said: "It's amazing. I still can't believe I've done it."

"To go on slicks was the right decision. I squeezed everything out of my car, so I'm very, very happy."

HULKENBERG: Amazed

Barton fail to climb above rivals

ZAMARETTO DIVISION ONE MIDLANDS
BARTON ROVERS 2
BEACONSFIELD STCOB 2

BOTH teams split the spoils after a whirlwind of goals in the first half led to a frustrating second period.

Barton Rovers were equal on points with their rivals before the game and missed the opportunity to go above them in the table.

Barton, who have drawn their last three league games, started brightly after opening the scoring on 12 minutes through Desi Ojuroke (pictured above).

Ojuroke received the ball on the edge of the area and after a quick touch smashed the ball into the net.

A long ball forward on 26 minutes put the visitors back into the game after Bartons defence seemed all over the place.

Ten minutes later Beaconsfield played a ball into the box and an unpressured Paul Andrews failed to clear, allowing visitors to take the lead before the half time whistle.

On 44 minutes, Bilal Hassan finished off a Luke Knight ball to get Barton back into the game.

The game saw an impressive debut from Max York who joined Barton on loan from Rushden & Diamonds with the midfielder receiving the man-of-the-match-award.

After sending York on loan, Diamonds boss Justin Edinburgh said, "We thought it was an ideal opportunity for him to go out and get some games at a nice footballing club which will continue his development. It's only right that he gets out and plays because I'm a great believer than you learn more from playing than you do from training."

Barton manager Dan Kennoy was delighted with York's debut.

"Max (York) was brilliant in midfield and we hope to use him to our advantage in the month ahead, we are very lucky to have him onboard."

'Newell made a scapegoat'

 and he was on loan at Luton the year that they got relegated because of the 30 points.

"I said, 'it's crazy that I left Luton five years ago and we were third in the Championship after six games.'

"How do you go from that to being in the Conference?"

"I know last year they just missed out in the play-offs but it doesn't happen. You can't be that unlucky for that to happen."

"It is a shame, especially with the Mike Newell situation at the time. I really liked Mike Newell. He was a very good manager here and it's just a shame that he was made a scapegoat for it."

"At the end of the day, if you're selling £3 million players and only getting £125,000 to spend as a manager, you're going to have a bit of a problem."

"It's a shame he hasn't got back into football after the Grimsby job."

Ironically, it was the club's second administration in 2003 that saw Davies handed his chance in Luton's first team in a period where players like Dean Brill, Leon Barnett and Kevin Foley all graduated from former Luton player and manager John Moore's academy system.

"We were a League Two club when I signed and then we started struggling in administration," he said. "That was the big thing that brought us all on. If it wasn't for administration, as harsh as it seems, none of us would have got the chance."

"The old regime, when Watson-Challice was in charge, he had money when he was the chairman."

"Joe Kinnear was spending it like a mad man so if someone got injured then there was a loan player in. But after administration I got my debut because there was no-one else. Once you've played one game and you get the chance of the manager then the rest is history. The next season I played a full season with Emmerson Boyce leaving and then I went on to move myself."

Just as Luton produced a string of players that graduated to the first team in Davies' time, the centre back, now on loan at Leicester from parent club Aston Villa, can see the green shoots of recovery.

He said: "As long as the lads keep coming through, like Ed [Asafu-Adjaye], who was a schoolboy when I was here. They've got good players coming through and I'm sure they'll keep producing that."

"Either through players coming through and getting in the first team or coming through and getting sold, hopefully they'll be able to push themselves back up."

"You look at Keith Keane and he played in the first team before me. I think Luton have done very, very well and are very lucky to have held on to Keith Keane. I'm sure there would have been lots of interest."

"There are still players who have the quality of playing in league football and the club has the mentality at the moment that they are going to hold on to players to try to push on."

"Hopefully it works, but if it doesn't then maybe they will let them players go and they'll be able to strengthen with the money they get."

"They've started well again this year and hopefully they can go straight up, so there's no more trouble, but Luton needs to be in the league, that's the main thing."

Barnes-Homer nets as Corby come near

BY MARC BAZELEY

FA CUP FIRST ROUND
CORBY TOWN 1
LUTON TOWN 1

LAST time Luton Town met Corby Town in the FA Cup it went to a replay at Kenilworth Road.

Forty five years later, it will again require another match to separate the sides after Matthew Barnes-Homer spared the Hatters' blushes with an equaliser seven minutes from time.

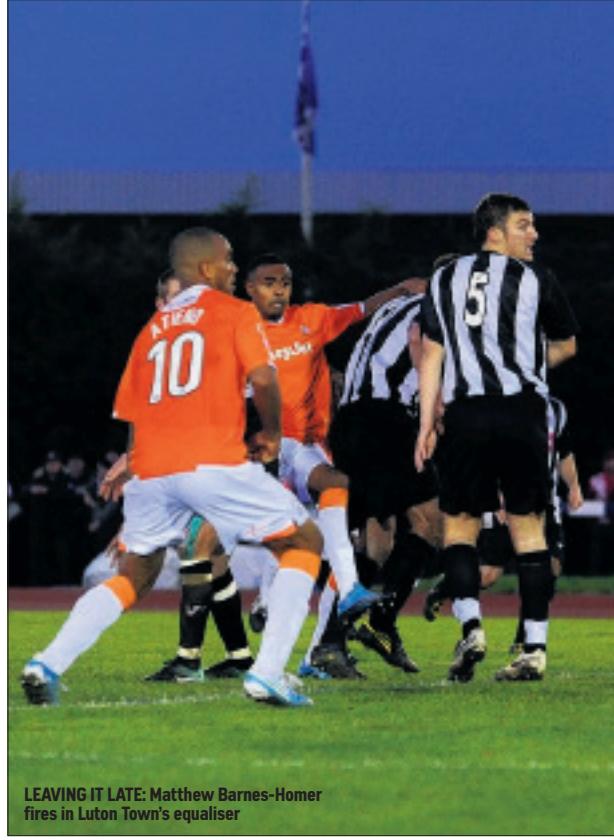

Ben Mackey's tenth goal of the season had put the Steelmen in front early in the first half, but it was one of few chances that the hosts created as Luton dominated possession and created better opportunities.

However, goalkeeper Chris Mackenzie was in inspired form for Corby as he pulled off some fine saves to keep the visitors at bay. But Luton's persistence was rewarded when Barnes-Homer dashed the hosts' hopes of pulling off a cup upset.

Hatters boss Richard Money was without Blue Square Bet Premier player of the month Danny Crow due to injury, so Tawio Atieno came in to partner Barnes-Homer up front. Dan Walker was also handed his first start on the left wing in place of Andy Drury.

Claude Gnakpa had a chance to put Luton ahead inside the first two minutes when he beat the off-side trap, but the bobbly pitch meant he could not get the ball completely under control and his shot was parried away by Steelmen goalie Mackenzie.

At the other end, Nathan Jarman failed to punish a momentary lapse in concentration by Fred Murray on ten minutes. The Luton left back's wayward pass across the back four was intercepted by Jarman, only for Jake Howells to make the tackle after the striker hesitated in taking a shot. But strike partner Mackey did not waste the chance that came his way four minutes later when he shook off his marker and rose up to head Danny Pitham's cross past Mark Tyler from six yards out.

The goal came slightly against the run of play and Gnakpa went close to evening things up less than a minute later. A defensive clearance fell to Hatters striker, but he fired just wide of the mark.

Keith Keane swung in the resulting corner and Walker was first to it, only for Mackenzie to come out and block his effort. The Hatters winger was given a second bite of the cherry when the rebound came to him, only for Andy Hall to deny him on the goal line.

Seven minutes later, Gnakpa was thwarted by the crossbar. Walker swung a free kick from out on the left wing into the Corby box and the Frenchman was first to it, with his header bouncing off the frame of the goal and out of play. Despite his protestations that Mackenzie had gotten a hand to it, referee

Premier League clubs show Cauley interest

RICHARD Money has issued a hands off warning to the big clubs sniffing around one of Luton's young starlets.

Cauley Woodrow started on the bench in yesterday's FA Cup First Round tie with Corby Town, but has the potential to force his way into the first team next season according to the Hatters' manager, who describes the youngster as a technically gifted attacking midfielder.

Money said: "He's very good and very sought-after - a lot of Premier League clubs are looking at him. We're anxious to keep him and want him to be a part of our first team squad next season."

■ Luton Town youngsters Dan Walker and Godfrey Poku have agreed contract extensions that will keep them at the club until the end of next season.

FORWARD THINKING: Taiwo Atieno (below) and Dan Walker (above) cause the Corby defence problems

Andy Penn was unmoved and awarded a goal kick.

The right winger was causing the hosts all sorts of problems and was again denied by Mackenzie as the half headed into the final five minutes. This time he was fed by Keane and turned marker Chris Hope to shoot. However, the home stopper was again equal to it.

The teams went in at the break with the Steelmen still holding a slender advantage, and manager

Money responded by bringing on Godfrey Poku on for Walker.

Only some desperate defence from the hosts kept them in front as the match headed into the final ten minutes. First Murray had an effort from 18 yards deflected away for a corner, and when the hosts failed to clear it properly the ball fell to George Pilkington, who saw his vicious strike pushed over the bar by Mackenzie.

Barnes-Homer then headed wide on 81 minutes, but he was on target two minutes later, heading home Dan Gleeson's pinpoint cross from close range for his tenth goal so far this season.

Both sides went in search of a late winner. However, it would not come for either side and they will do it all again a week on Tuesday at Kenilworth Road. This time though, the Hatters will want to avoid a repeat of 45 years ago when Corby triumphed 1-0.

RICHARD Money praised his side's battling spirit after an injury-hit Luton Town were held to a 1-1 draw away at Corby Town in the first round of the FA Cup. Matthew Barnes-Homer's 83rd minute equaliser cancelled out Ben Mackey's early strike that had given the Steelmen hope of causing an upset at the Rockingham Triangle.

The score line does not reflect the nature of the game, which saw Luton dominate in terms of possession and chances, but the two teams will now do it all again in just over a week at Kenilworth Road. "We've played with what you would say is a weakened team as we had some key players missing and we've stayed in the competition. To be honest, sometimes that is all that matters," said Hatters boss Money.

"When you get to the replay, no-one will be too bothered about how we have performed here if we go and win and get through."

The likes of Danny Crow, Andy Drury, Shane Blackett, Zdenek Kroca and Adam Newton were all missing due to injury. But they are not expected to be long term absentees, with the exception of midfielder Newton who is out until January with an achilles injury and is awaiting possible surgery.

Even so, the Hatters found Corby difficult to break down as wave after wave of attack was nullified by the home side defending deep and some inspired goalkeeping from Chris Mackenzie.

The playing surface at the Rockingham Triangle also made things hard as the bobbling nature of the pitch meant it was tough for Luton to move the ball on the deck effectively.

Money said: "It was a difficult afternoon for us to move the ball quickly when they've got so many people behind the ball."

"The only way you can break it down - if you're not going to lump it forwards - is to play, keep getting wide and keep trying to get down the sides of them, but the pitch was so poor that you couldn't do it quickly enough."

"They always seemed to get back at us, they worked extremely hard, but in the end we've gone three up top and deservedly got a replay for our efforts without playing great."

Dunstable, who are lingering mid-table, started brightly with Lewis Endacott making a brilliant solo run and James Potter supplying plenty of dangerous crosses.

On 39 minutes, Dunstable took the lead through Steve Bedrey who finished Luke Lincoln's accurate cross.

From the celebration, Royston hit the post after lobbing goalkeeper Paul Taylor.

With only four minutes left, Dunstable secured victory after Kerran Birch ran clear and doubled Dunstable's lead.

Town play Cambridge United in the FA Vase 2nd round next Saturday at home.

SOUTH MIDLANDS DIV ONE

CRAWLEY Green did not play yesterday as their scheduled game away at Sport London e Benfica was cancelled as Benfica have withdrawn from the league.

All games that Benfica have played this season will be voided and all points and goals scored against them will be cancelled and vice versa.

Wodson Park played Benfica a month ago and won 18-1, which will now be voided from the league table.

Benfica's game last week against Hoddesdon Town was also 'postponed' leading up to yesterday's announcement.

Middlesex FA and the South Midlands League have announced they have withdrawn from the league with immediate effect.

Crawley play Welwyn Garden City away on Tuesday night.

SOUTH MIDLANDS DIV TWO

NEW Manager Kevin Lambert walked away with a 4-1 victory against Bletchley Town in his first game in charge for Brache Sparta.

Manoif Henry volleyed in the first goal to secure a 1-0 half time lead before Bobby Skyer made it two with a strike on the hour from 12 yards out.

Bletchley then pulled a goal back after gaining possession on the right wing.

On 73 minutes, Henry grabbed his second and Dee Fantic added Sparta's fourth three minutes from time.

Caddington lost heavily to Risborough Rangers 6-0.

With new players starting, including a lot of youngsters, the team didn't seem to gel and found themselves 4-0 down at the break.

They will now hope to improve their form for the William Pease cup game next week against USL Galacticos away.

BEDFORDSHIRE FA SENIOR TROPHY

AFC Dunstable comfortably won 3-1 yesterday against Blunham away from home.

BJ Christie got a hat-trick with goals coming on the 55th, 60th and 70th minutes. Blunham grabbed a late consolation with five minutes remaining. The strong result puts Dunstable into the hat for the next round of the cup.

61FC lost 1-0 at home to Bedford FC in a tight match. The winner came in the 80th minute from Bedford midfielder Ian Thorne after a strong run from the right-hand side, beating two defenders to slot in from 12 yards. 61FC will be looking to get back to winning ways when they visit Milton Keynes Wanderers next week.

Kent Athletic had a fantastic 4-2 victory away from home to Wilshamstead. Kent took the lead in the fourth minute from Junior George, however it was not all plain sailing for the Luton side with Ben Fitzsimmons sent off in the 10th minute after a straight red card. Although with the numerical disadvantage Kent scored a

In the second half, Renhold United took the game by the scruff of the neck and dominated proceedings eventually equalising on the 75th minute to take the tie to extra time. # Curtis still in shock over cash shortage

james.cunliffe@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE player that brought Luton Town's highest ever transfer fee still can't believe the club's fall from grace or where the money from his sale went.

In a remarkably frank interview Curtis Davies (pictured right) also said that he thinks former manager Mike Newell, who was sacked in March 2007, during a turbulent period of financial hardship, was treated as a 'scapegoat'.

CUTTING THE RIBBON: Curtis Davies (right) officially opens Luton Town's new training facility alongside West Ham United defender Matthew Upson (left) and Keith Keane

However, the 25-year-old, who was sold to Premier League West Bromwich Albion early in the 2005-06 season for £3 million after helping the Hatters into the Championship as League One winners, believes that the good times could be just around the corner once more.

Davies was in Baldock on Wednesday to help open the club's new training facility with West Ham United and England's Matthew Upson, another product of Town's youth system, but he returned to a very different club to the one that made him.

After leaving Kenilworth Road, Luton suffered three successive relegations and as well as entering administration for a record third time, they were docked an unprecedented 40 points over a nine-month period which saw them slip into the Conference after an 89-year stay in the Football League.

But the club's third administration was made all the more astonishing because of the amount of money the club earned for selling a host of players like Davies who went on to star in the Premier League.

"The money they got for us players off the top of your head you're talking about roughly £10 million on about five players," said Davies.

"It was a Championship side that got relegated to League One and that money should never have gone anywhere.

"It's a shame when you think of that because the club did well to bring us through. They deserved the reward of the fees they got for myself, Kevin Foley, Leon Barnett and even players like Nico [Kevin Nicholls], Howie [Steve Howard], Rowan Vine and people like that.

"It's a shame that the money got messed about. I was talking about it with [Leicester keeper] Conrad Logan

What do we know about the Forest?

The Forest Centre and Millennium Country Park comprises a visitor centre, café, gift shop, exhibition and extensive conferencing facilities. The Forest Centre is at the heart of the Forest of Marston Vale and profits from the Centre are donated to the Marston Vale Trust to help create the Forest of Marston Vale over a 61 square mile area between the M1 and Bedford.

The Forest of Marston Vale is a project run by a Registered Charity (the Marston Vale Trust). It launched in 1991 and is now the largest environmental regeneration project in Bedfordshire.

It is working together with national and international businesses as well as planners, developers and local people to transform 61 square miles of the Marston Vale, damaged by a century of brick making and clay extraction, into thriving green spaces that local people can enjoy and where wildlife can flourish.

Let's all chip in...

Over the years, thousands of local people have shown their support for the Forest by taking part in hundreds of local events; getting their hands dirty to plant trees and help make a difference.

Why not get involved this year? There will be a free planting event on Sunday 5th December (during National Tree Week). The Forest Team will be at Shocott Spring where they will begin work to plant 10 acres of new community woodland.

Guy Lambourne, Forest of Marston Vale said: "Planting trees is great fun and there are so many reasons to come along – it's great exercise, kids love it, and everyone who helps will be making a valuable contribution to creating a wonderful new community woodland. We provide the tools and trees and there will be free shuttle buses from the Forest Centre and the Elstow Park and Ride – so anyone can just turn up armed simply with friends, family and bags of enthusiasm."

"We're delighted"

Forest Team welcomes Blue Chip

"Our partnership with Blue Chip is a fantastic endorsement of how much the environment matters to business."

We partner with well over 100 businesses – locally, nationally and internationally – and their support and involvement has helped us create over 1,000 acres of wild places for people and wildlife to enjoy.

"Sustainable businesses and a high quality environment are the future for Bedford and we are delighted to be able to play our part in it."

Tony Talbot, Managing Director, Forest of Marston Vale

2020 Vision

Blue Chip's tree planting commitment will enable the trust to benefit by planting 2,000 trees each time a rack is commissioned. The target is to plant 768,000 trees by 2020.

- on the Trust's own sites
- on private land in partnership with the landowner
- in the Bedford River Valley Park in partnership with Bedford Borough Council.

From Blue Chip to Wood Chip

The Blue Chip tree planting fund will enable the Marston Vale Trust to plant areas of short rotation forestry and short rotation coppice to boost local markets for wood fuel.

"It's an area we are keen to develop", said James Russell, Forest Director. "The Forest Centre now has a boiler that runs on woodchip that saves us money and reduces our use of fossil fuels. We hope to inspire others to convert to sustainable heat sources like wood."

The greener side of business growth...

Blue Chip is the latest business in a long line of businesses that the Marston Vale Trust has partnered in helping them contribute to the environmental and social regeneration of the Marston Vale through the creation of woodlands for the benefit of people and wildlife.

The Forest team responds to the needs of its partners by designing programmes which deliver high-profile benefits and help an organisation's employees and customers make the essential connection between the community, the environment and thriving businesses.

"This is exactly the kind of inspiring partnership that we welcome in Bedfordshire, demonstrating how successful business and a regenerated environment can go hand in hand. Both Blue Chip and the Marston Vale Trust have worked hard to build up excellent reputations that demonstrate their commitment and ability to 'getting the job done'. I believe this partnership will bring far reaching opportunities for business and leisure; as well as bringing tangible benefits to local people, places and wildlife."

Mayor of Bedford
